PhillyCarShare heads to Newark Delaware!

Ever thought about driving a blue Mini Cooper or a Red Mustang? Your chance is coming via the University of Delaware and PhillyCarShare.

Heather Kemp, with PhillyCarShare explains how they're different than a normal dealer.  Audio Here

PhillyCarShare is a non-profit organization which seeks to improve the environment while saving people money and is free to join.

The city of Newark will receive the Toyota Prius as the first car to use, not just on campus but city wide.

The rates range from 3.90 per hour to $39 for the whole day plus 16 cents a mile.
